Cleaning and maintenance

Keeping it all spick and span

Naturally, you'll want to keep your new bathroom suite looking as good as new for as long as you can. Bathroom cleaning and maintenance may not be your favourite chore but if you start off the right way with regular and careful cleaning it's a lot easier - you'll save plenty of time and energy in the long run if you prevent a build-up of dirt, stains and limescale. (If you do get a build-up PLEASE make sure you use the right cleaning products and follow the instructions!).

Baths

Acrylic or enamelled bath surfaces should be cleaned regularly with warm soapy water, then rinsed with cold water and ideally dried and polished with a soft cloth. It's best to do this after every use as some bathroom products can damage or discolour surfaces. Avoid abrasive products and scouring powders. Bleach is a complete no-no with enamelled baths.

Ceramics

Ceramic products should also be cleaned regularly with warm soapy water, then rinsed with clean water and ideally polished with a soft cloth. Regular cleaning will prevent a build-up of soluble salts, however if limescale does form it can be removed using a mild solution of lemon juice (citric acid). Please don't leave strong cleaners or bleach on ceramic products overnight since the glazed surface may be damaged.

Plastic toilet seats

Plastic toilet seats should be cleaned regularly with warm soapy water. Avoid abrasive cleaning agents or scouring powders as they may damage the surface. We strongly recommend that you carefully follow the instructions on the bottle of any cleaner you use.

Chrome plated products

Clean regularly with warm soapy water, then rinse and dry with a soft cloth. Specialist chrome cleaners can also be used, but they are abrasive so always follow the instructions carefully. Avoid contact with disinfectants, denture cleaners and hair dyes as they can cause irreparable damage to chrome surfaces.

Stainless steel products

Regular cleaning with warm soapy water or with mild detergent, followed by a rinse then dry with a soft cloth will maintain a good shine. Don't use strong acids and disinfectants. If the steel has become extremely dirty use a stainless steel cleaner, carefully following the instructions. Never use steel wool or steel wool soap pads as these may leave rust spots.

Furniture

These surfaces should be dried immediately after use with a soft cloth - water should not be allowed to pool on them for a long period. To clean, use a soft damp cloth but never use scouring powder, scourers or abrasive cleaners. Avoid direct contact with hot items.
